Launch of “BATTLE STATION X” – Mid-Tower ATX Gaming Case
Perfect Build for Gamers & Tech Enthusiasts

HONG KONG, 5 May 2020

Tech innovator GELID Solutions launches the BATTLE STATION X – the latest Mid-Tower ATX gaming PC case. The BATTLE STATION X is a product of GELID Solution GAMER product line.

The BATTLE STATION X is designed for gaming. It features excellent style with tempered glass panels and robust chassis with highly versatile layout. Tailored to accommodate top-performance components, the BATTLE STATION X provides extended space for the latest GPU and high-power PSU, and also supports full-fledged water-cooling setups with front, top or rear radiator mounts fitting up to a 360mm radiator and 3 optional 120mm fans. The BATTLE STATION X boasts multiple storage options with easy-to-use internal drive bays for 3 x 3.5” HDD and 2 x 2.5” SSD. And especially, a set of USB ports and HD Audio/Mic outputs are located on the top panel to facilitate connection of gaming headsets and other peripherals.

“For gamers, details matter. BATTLE STATION X is energized to pursue perfection in every aspect. And you can craft a perfect home for your gaming rig with it”, said Gebhard Scherrer, Sales Director of GELID Solutions Ltd.

The BATTLE STATION X is available now and has a MSRP of USD 85.99 or Euro 79.99.
